

Courts of Limited Jurisdiction Case Management System Project Announces RFP Release!

The Courts of Limited Jurisdiction Case Management System (CLJ-CMS) Project Steering Committee and the project team are very excited to announce an important milestone has been reached.

After unanimous approval of the CLJ-CMS Steering Committee, the Judicial Information System Committee (JISC) unanimously approved release of the Request for Proposal (RFP) for a new case management system for CLJ's and probation departments at its August 26th meeting. The RFP was released immediately following the meeting.

The RFP contains detailed information about the case management needs and requirements of Washington's limited jurisdiction courts and probation departments. The RFP was distributed nationwide. Vendors will respond with information on how their systems can meet the needs of Washington's CLJ courts and probation departments.

The CLJ-CMS Project Steering Committee and the project team want to thank the judicial officers, administrators, court and probation staff who contributed many, many hours to reach this important milestone.

The RFP can be viewed on AOC's public web site by scrolling to the bottom of the page and clicking on the Procurement hyperlink.